of Australians
agree that
unsolicited sales
should be banned.

A poll was conducted by Ipsos Australia of 1045 Australians from 4-9 May 2016.

Door-to-door sales are allowed 9-6 Monday to Friday and 9-5 on Saturday.

Australians likely to be home during the day have significantly more negative views on unsolicited sales, & are much more supportive of a ban.

That's people like the widowed, retirees, stay at home parents and those who work from home.
